COMMERCIAL OR RESIDENTIAL LANDSCAPE DESIGN

WHY WATER FEATURES

When you want to design a commercial or residential landscape that stands out from the rest, just add water.

Water has long been our most popular natural resource. Rarely can you find a recreational spot without some sort of water feature as the main attraction. On commercial and residential properties alike, water is a natural attractant and gathering space.

In addition, the management of storm water is becoming increasingly important. Creating viable options to alleviate run-off and flooding is an integral part of landscape design as impermeable surfaces are increasing.

Aquascape has over 25 years of experience in creating a variety of stunning water features and providing sustainable solutions for storm water management. We provide all the tools you need to incorporate water features into your next landscape project including design plans, technical specifications, design/build contracting, installation, maintenance, and a complete line of support products.
